

PALM BEACH SUIT CAUSES TROUBLE

Old Stetson Starts Trouble with New Summer Clothes.

When Old Stetson, stepped out of Naylor's Alley Sunday afternoon, all dressed up in his new cream-colored Palm Beach suit, he heard a few snickers behind him. Being the only resident of the alley possessed of enough ready cash to buy such a suit, he immediately concluded that someone was jealous.

He retraced his steps in the direction of the bothersome sounds, but they stopped and Old Stetson could not locate them. He started out again, and then heard some more snickers, this time unmistakably loud.

He caught Joe Tucker in the act of casting slurs on his clothes, and Joe insisted that Old Stetson's suit was "nasty." A fight started. Both men were arrested and fined $10 in Police Court yesterday morning.

Victim of Preparedness.

A fear that the whole country is going dry brought Henry N. Davis, of Norfolk, Md., to town last Monday, to get some liquor. It has been very dry in the country, and Henry thought he needed some refreshments to take back with him. He bought them, but his thirst got the better of him and Henry strolled over to Temperance Hall Alley, northwest and leaned up against the wall and tilted his bottle.

Henry thought, to carry his purchases home in such a manner that he couldn't possibly spill them, and he put most of them on the inside of a passing policeman was sure the wall could stand without Henry holding it up and arrested him. Henry got five days.

Girls Win Fight; Are Fined.

Mary Tynes and Alice Coleman both have well developed muscles in their arms. Monday, to the girls say, someone "sicked" a dog on them, and they played ball with the dog, which was a Boston bull. Back and forth they "singed" him, until his neighbor became frightened and rushed to his assistance. He could not get at the dog, and somehow or other the dog landed square in his face.

The two girls were arrested after they had several good laughs at his predicament. A fight almost started when the girls challenged the dog's owner. But he left the scene before they could secure a warrant for him. They were fined $5 each, but didn't have the money.

New Way to Boost Wages.

Two wrongs do not make a right. This fact was with some difficulty impressed on Lottie Darrell, charged in Police Court yesterday morning with the larceny of a collection of bedding and kitchen ware. Lottie worked at the Working Boys Home, and because she was underpaid, so she claimed, she made up the difference, she took according to her own statement, what belonged to her employers.

It had not been for the fact that her employer was kindhearted, Lottie would be at Occoquan for sixty days. With some reluctance Judge Pugh consented to put her on probation and warned her that by stealing, she was not lawfully settling an obligation.

Fine Clothes Cause Trouble.

Hattie Hurst works all day every day, and because of the high cost of duds and a small salary she cannot afford to dress up like a "peacock." This is Hattie's wail. Jennie Smythe does the same work, but manages to dress up, and struts around to the disgust of the vermin. The girl who has the "peacock" dress is put on a purple crepe de chine dress and paraded by Hattie's doorsteps till Hattie could stand it no longer. Enraged and outraged, Hattie made some remarks about the source of Jennie's apparel and the two came to blows. The trouble was brought to court and each of the fighters left $5 apiece in fines.

GIRL SUES AUTO OWNER.

Alma Guthrie, a minor, through her father, Claude B. Guthrie, filed suit yesterday to recover $1,000 alleged damages against Tucker K. Sands as a result of a collision on Columbia road, near Connecticut Avenue, last August.
